Course description

All four tracks make good use of the parkland and woodland settings. They are designed to encourage bold and forward riding but will have alternatives where appropriate. There will be changes from the Spring event and some new features on all courses. Fences are well dressed and presented, with mainly permanent fences and a few sturdy portables. The Bill Kear Water Complex features once towards the end of the course. All areas of the event are meticulously prepared according to the ground conditions and will be aggravated if necessary. The course is preserved for the events only and is not open for schooling.
