Benefits.

Association with a high-profile event in the south east of England and one of the most popular equestrian events in Sussex. Borde Hill attracts some of the best riders in the world with Olympic medallists Pippa Funnell, Tina Cook and Andrew Nicholson all competing here regularly.

Equally, Borde Hill is an extremely popular event with a high number of riders, of all ages and abilities, traveling from many areas of the country to compete at the event.

With many of the horses competing at Borde Hill owned by affluent families, this is a prime opportunity to get your brand in front of high net worth business people. By having promotional material available and on display in the marquee you will be reaching potential new business, which would otherwise be missed.

As the title sponsor, you will have the opportunity to bring some of your existing clients along to experience the excitement of eventing first hand. With the hospitality marquee in front of the Show Jumping arena, this will provide a relaxed environment to strengthen existing relationships.
